Dear Bob

I want to personally thank you for the very professional security planning service you and your staff provided for me. The experience confirmed for me that this is a very valuable service anyone concerned about their financial security can benefit from.

I found that the security planning addresses a host of important areas most of us seldom have the time, motivation or information resources to effectively implement. Bob, you and your staff do your job extremely well and I am delighted that such service comes at no cost or obligation whatsoever to our employees.

I now have greater confidence and a real sense of security regarding my future plans. I would have no hesitation recommending this service to any of my colleagues here at PMH.

Sincerely yours
