Dear Bob,

I am forwarding a letter of recommendation to you based upon the service that MedStaff Consulting has provided me over the last 11 years. My wife and I have very busy practices with hospital commitments, research and family demands competing for our time. MedStaff Consulting fills a service void that most doctors critically need: How to efficiently access the right information and trusted advisors to plan, organize and execute the steps necessary to achieving the financial security we all are looking for.

The biggest concern I hear from my colleagues is how to make sense of the mass of paper reporting on the many areas of financial concern: banking, credit lines, tax and accounting issues, investment performance, business and personal insurance, and legal questions. MedStaff Consulting addresses all these issues and integrates them into a coherent plan, administered by a team of personable, responsible, physician experienced advisors.

Your ongoing assistance in searching out better solutions for physicians, providing top advisors in investment, tax, credit management and legal matters, has been invaluable to my family.

I have no hesitation whatsoever in recommending you and your advisors at MedStaff Consulting.

Thank you again,
